JUDGMENT:(per Hon'ble Sri Justice B.Prakash Rao)

Heard both sides and at their request, the main writ appeal itself is taken up for disposal.

In this appeal, the appellant seeks to assail the orders of the learned single Judge dated 16-08-2005 in allowing W.P.No.17984 of 2005 filed by the respondent herein and remanding the matter to the Labour Court for fresh disposal on merits and in accordance with law.

However, during the course of arguments, it is represented by both sides that there is no stay pending disposal of the appeal and consequent to the order of remand and the matter had been taken up by the respondent i.e., the Labour Court, appellant also participated in the said proceedings, and ultimately, passed an award.

Having regard to the same, this appeal has become infructuous. However, it is made clear that it is open for the appellant herein to raise all the objections including the maintenance of the ID itself.

The Writ Appeal is dismissed. However, in the circumstances, without costs.
